WOUNDED SOLDIERS PASSED WEST OVER C. & O. THURSDAY

They Were Just From the Battle
Fields of France and Were Bound
For Base Hospitals.

A special train of five coaches passed West over the C. & O. yesterday, filled with wounded soldiers from the battle front in France. They were the biggest, bravest and finest of this country's young manhood, every one of whom had made what is almost equivalent to the greatest of all sacrifices, for never again will they enjoy life as they formerly did.

One young hero had lost a leg, half a dozen were without an arm, great head wounds were shown by several,
some were suffering from gas, bayonet
wounds were common sights, while some were too ill to raise from their beds. All heroes.

They had fought in the battles of last July, which will go down in history of the fiercest of the war, for the famous Prussian Guards were their opponents.

Many wore the "Croix de Guerre," which they received in reward for bravery under fire.

These young heroes, one hundred and forty strong, were fresh from the battlefields of Sergy, Serlinges, Chateau Thierry and the Oreg, a good number of them being of the "Rainbow Division."

All were en route to the base hospitals
in New Mexico and Des Moines, Iowa,
where they will receive treatment until well, and then will go to their homes to again take up life
where the threads were broken over a year ago when they so bravely went forth in this greatest of all causes.

Train No. 2 Eastbound carried about fifty uniformed men, ten Marines, twenty-eight sailors, five soldiers and a number of selectives, while No. 3, Westbound carried about twenty soldiers and sailors, all a merry set of lads, most of whom were homeward bound on furloughs.

SLACKERS WERE FEW; PATRIOTISM PLENTIFUL

Report of the Mason County Liberty Loan Committee.

To the People of Mason County:

The Government called on us to sell
$789,250 worth of Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds. We sold $922,500 worth, being $133,350 in excess of our quota.

There were 2934 subscribers in the county; more than twice as many as in any previous loan.

We are sure this good showing will be a matter of grateful pride to you and we wish to return our most sincere thanks to the men and women chairmen and solicitors of each precinct in the county for their efficient work; which they all did so cheerfully and well. Without them the gratifying result could not have been obtained.

As soon as we are able to complete the figures, we will publish a complete statement, by precincts.

Slackers were few, and patriotism
plentiful.

Respectfully,
Mason County Liberty Loan Committee.

J. N. KEHOE, Chairman.
N. S. CALHOUN, Secretary.

H. B. ADAMSON DEAD

Mr. H. B. Adamson, aged 69 years, formerly of this city, died Thursday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. O. D. Greenwood of Knoxville,
Tenn., with whom he made his home.
He has been in failing health for the past several months. The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Della Adamson and two daughters, Mrs. O.
D. Greenwood and Mrs. Cora Gettes, all of Knoxville. Interment will be made Saturday in the White Oak cemetery at Knoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wood of West Second street are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby girl. Mother and baby doing fine. Needless to say that Mr. Wood is wearing a smile.

MORE CITIES TAKEN IN BATTLE NEAR VALENCIENNES

Halg's Men Continue Their Victories,
Fighting Night and Day—Fiercest Combat of War.

London, October 25—Inroads by the British and Americans against the German line south of Valenciennes continue, and it seems probable that the enemy will be forced to begin a new retreat. Although the Allies have reached the Marne woods, where the Germans have prepared a stubborn defense, the progress made just to the north of this extensive wooded section threatens to turn the enemy out of his positions there before he has an opportunity to meet frontal attacks
along the western side of the forest.

The American divisions which are engaged in the great task of tearing away the Kremlund line, between the Argonne forest and the Meuse, have come more advanced their front, especially near the western end of the sector. There, in spite of desperate German resistance and repeated counter-attacks, they have moved ahead and appear to threaten the rest of the German defensive system to the east. Near Bantville the Americans have gained important tactical advantages. East of the Meuse the Germans have been forced back more than half a mile on a front of near a mile and a half.

London, October 25—The British have captured Maling, southwest of Valenciennes. Field Marshal Halg announced.

The British also have captured Vendres-sur-Ecaillon, on the front between Valenciennes.

A German counter-attack was repulsed and fighting was resumed early this morning.

Fighting, which equals in fierceness
almost any in the war, continued through the night on the field of the great battle, north and south of Valenciennes.

Mr. Ward Walker, aged 39, one of the Orangeburg neighborhood's farmers, fell a victim to pneumonia last night.
He is survived by two children, a son and daughter. The funeral will be held at the grave at Mt. Gilead Saturday morning.

SETTLED FOR $50 PER HOGSHEAD WITH TOBACCO COMPANY

Connell Last Night Made Final Settlement For This Year's Taxes
With the American Tobacco Company.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held last night, Mayor Thomas M. Russell presiding, and all members present except Members Hansicker and Lally.

Several very important matters were taken up and settled that will mean a saving to the taxpayers and avoid an expensive litigation in the courts.

The first thing considered was the matter of paving Lower street from Second street to the concreted territory
around the new C. & O. depot.
Some time ago Mr. E. T. Kirk made a proposal to the Internal Improvement Committee Chairman, Mr. William
Watkins, and Mayor Thomas
Russell that he would pay the difference between a macadam street and a concrete drive on that portion of that thoroughfare. His idea was looking toward the further improvement to his property which abuts that portion of Lower street on both sides.
The concreting of this street will not only make that one of the neatest in the city, but will be more in keeping with the concrete work around the new depot and will keep that portion free from mud and dust to a marked degree. Mr. Kirk presented his plan and he was given permission to make a 30-foot concrete street, and if he deemed it to his best judgment to make a six-foot sidewalk on the East side of the street and a four-foot walk on the West side, which will leave an approximate space of five feet between the sidewalk and street for grass and trees.

Mayor Russell stated that the inhabitant for the floor of limestone bridge had arrived and asked Council for an appropriation of the necessary money to pay for it, which was made, he to see that the material came up to specification. The new floor will be put down immediately, as it is badly needed.

The matter of the erroneous taxing of the American Tobacco Company was then taken up. It developed that the assessment made against the Company by the assessor and the Board of Equalization last spring was made from the County Assessor's books,—that is the amount assessed being practically what was in the city and county combined. This phase of the situation was not made plain at the last meeting of Council. As several members did not think the city had any right to base its assessments on what was in the county outside the city's corporate limits, a motion was made to accept the offer of the Company of $50 per hogshead on 8,049 hogsheads they had on hand in the city on the 1st of last April, which carried. Attorney W. D. Coehan for the company made it very plain that the law allowed such a proceeding. A communication from the Board of Equalization, signed by all the members, was read and they advised that this course be taken.

After referring several other matters to the Proprietary and Grievances committee, Council adjourned.

Some time ago a passing automobile threw a stone into one of the large plate-glass windows of the wholesale grocery house of Omar Dodson on East Second street, cracking it so badly that it had to be replaced, and yesterday workmen got the new glass in place. The window was insured.

Much has been done, but much remains to be done. Don't forget the suffering home folks. The situation is well in hand, but money and food stuffs are needed and necessary. Be as generous as you can.

Cross.

"SKIMMING" OF CREAM IS ORDERED DONE

New Ruling of Federal Food Administrator Is Ahmed to Release
Butter Fats.

Her orders recently promulgated by the Division of Dairy Products, of the United States Food Administration at Washington, prohibits all distributors of sweet cream or milk from selling cream containing more than 20 per cent. butter fat, according to a telegram received today by the Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky.

A question has been raised as to whether this rule applies to non-licensed distributors. Washington's ruling received today says:

"Administration will consider sale
of sweet cream containing over 20 per cent. butter fat as wasteful and whether sold by licensed or unlicensed dealers, except as provided in the rule."

Producers who do not distribute their product are not included, and cream used for butter making is exempt.

The principal effects of the ruling
should be to lower the present price of cream and to release the great quantity of butter fat now going into the sweet cream trade for butter making.
The new order comes as the result of investigations which indicated a serious shortage in the butter market, due to the high price of feeds and labor, and to the heavy demands for army and navy use, and for exportation
to the allied countries.

INFUENZA ON THE WANE IN 44 STATES

Further Subsidence of Epidemic Shown in Reports to Washington.
—Rages in Larger Cities.

Washington, October 25—Further subsidence of the influenza epidemic
over the country was indicated in reports received yesterday by the Public Health Service from forty-four States.
The situation still is serious in many localities, however, and more particularly in the larger cities.

There was practically no change yesterday in army camps, 2,772 new cases being reported, a decrease of one from Wednesday's total. Pneumonia cases decreased from 742 Wednesday to 699 yesterday and deaths were 307 against 327 the day before.
The total of influenza cases reported
now is 298,275 pneumonia cases 48, 238 and deaths 16,174.

Arkansas reported yesterday that the peak had been passed in the larger towns, but that conditions were more serious in the rural districts.
Connecticut reported a general decline in the number of cases, but that the disease still is active in the larger cities.
California has reported a total of 45,700 cases.

In Florida deaths in the cities and towns increased rapidly early this month, but they now show a sharp decline. In Arizona the disease is spreading to some extent in the milder districts, but elsewhere is on the decline. The total cases reported in Colorado is 11,432, while in other far Western States the disease is epidemic.

Mr. Ivan Case of East Second street is confined to his home with the Spanish influenza.

Marmaduke Coills and son, Jene, are recovering from a serious case of influenza.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

A GOODLY CITY

Maysville is surely doing her part in a most noble and deserving manner by looking after the sick people of the city. A leading physician said to The Ledger today that he didn't know there were so many kind hearted people in the world till he had seen what the noble-minded Christian men and women of Maysville had been doing in order to care for the sick and suffering caused by this epidemic of Spanish influenza. He said that he always had felt that Maysville was one of the best cities in the world and now he knew it. He further said that when he died and went to Heaven as he expected to, he would be thoroughly satisfied if he was accorded as good treatment there as he had received while living in Maysville.

This is surely a recommendation for the old town but we believe it is one that can serve. When it is known that girls and men and women from the best families of the city have gone out to do washing and scrubbing and caring for the sick and afflicted in their own homes when it has been impossible to get help, it means that the heart of our people is in the right place and that they are always willing to do their full part in any undertaking.

A WAR ISSUE

In referring to Germany's effort to amend her constitution to satisfy the allies, the New York Times remarks:

Instead of amending paragraph this and paragraph that of the constitution, Germany should strike out and cast out the kaiser and all his house and works, all the gang of megalomaniac homicidal imbeciles that have brought her to ruin.

Amending constitutions and ordering a democratic attitude to placate the allies won't work. Hohenzollernism has to cease and the kaiser has to go. That is the first thing. What follows is not so important. Bismarck's work has to be undone. There is to be no more kultur or divinity of kings. Germany must take on a new character. She must be born again. Therein is the path of safety and any other way means more war now or hereafter. Germany is to be blotted from the map if kaisersm is stays. This is the logic of events rather than the wisdom of statecraft.

FINED FOR PROFITEERING

Four grocery firms at Steubenville, Ohio, were fined $50 each for profiteering. It would be interesting to know just how the profiteering occurred; what the goods were upon which the alleged charges were made. This important intelligence the news account does not give. There is a feeling prevalent among the people that a good deal of profiteering is going on, but they have not the definite facts at hand to tell them why they think so. Of course, it is a matter of figures, but back of these is the feeling that everything is profiteering where the price is raised, not on account of the cost, but from the fact that a war is in progress and that alone justifies the increase. This in the popular opinion is bad morality, and bad politics. A person who pays 20 cents for an article that sells for 30 cents because there is a war. That is actual profiteering and probably what those grocery men were fined for.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN
NOVEMBER 11th-18th

800 WOMEN NEEDED BY SALVATION ARMY

Commander Evangeline Booth
Says War Relief Work
Must Be Extended.

Commander Evangeline Booth, leader of the Salvation Army in the United States, has been suddenly called upon to furnish 800 additional war work women for France. The request is contained in a report just received by her from Col. William A. Barker, of the Salvationist forces, whom she sent to France over a year ago to establish huts and general war relief work with the American troops.

"We will do all we can to fill this demand," said Commander Booth when discussing the approaching United War Work Campaign, and the need itself should impress the American public all the more with the absolute necessity for sustaining and enlarging the war relief work of the seven organizations, besides the noble Red Cross, now merged for a drive for funds. Each is a vital cog in a vast machine for human relief, and each is indispensable, serving its particular elements in its own way.

"We are of the common people, and we tell on a practical basis. We learned the lesson of how to do it in the Boer war, when we stood at the side of Britain's troops and weathered it out to the end. We have been tried by fire, and the mothers and fathers of America, as in other countries, trust the Salvation Army to do the thing they would like to do for their men if they but had the chance.

"With 1,210 trained workers at the front, operating from 420 huts and dugouts, the Salvation Army is doing, has done, and will continue to do its best for the cause of humanity and Liberty."

CURE FOR BLUES NEAR THE CAMPS

Community Service Takes Place
of Mother, Friends and Home for Soldiers.

Ten young officers of the Student Army Training Corps of the University of Detroit recently applied for a furnished house and a housekeeper who would not be a servant, but, as one young officer expressed it, "the sort of woman to whom the boys can call out 'Hello, mother!' when they come in the front door."

Homestickness is the malady for which War Camp Community Service supplies innumerable cures.

"We've got your number," says the W. C. C. S. to the homesick boy from camp with leisure to spend in any one of the three hundred towns scattered over the country. While he's wondering what on earth he'll do with himself when he gets there, not knowing a soul in town and with limited percentage of his "thirty per" in his pocket, along comes a friendly printed card from the local branch of his own lodges announcing a reception that night especially for soldier members. By the same mail the Methodist church sends an announcement of all its meetings, addressed to him, with This Means You printed at the bottom. How did they know he was a Methodist?

He had forgotten about the little "Personal Card" he made out at the adjutant's request during his first day in camp when it was only one of the many details in the round of dentists and doctors and general confusion.

The W. C. C. S. had not only his number, but his name and address, his home town, the name of the school he'd gone to and a good bit about the things he was fondest of doing—each fact written into a little blank on the card especially for it.

MAKES 21 ATTEMPTS TO GET IN-TO ARMY: SUCCEEDS

Philadelphia, Pa. — After making twenty-four efforts, without success, to get into the American, Canadian, British, and French armies, and after being turned down also for the books contributed by the American people the association bought 500,271 books, mostly technical, of which 198,267 were sent overseas. More than 1,500,000 books of all kinds have been assigned to libraries in Y. M. C. A., K. of C. or Salvation Army huts in the war zone, a smaller number being distributed in American training camps, while half a million are on warships or transports. The association has erected and operates forty-one library buildings.

The Salvation Army, with 1,210 workers, principally women, overseas, has won the affection of the fighters. Its 501 huts, rest and reading rooms are popular gathering places for the soldiers. The doughnuts fried by Salvation lasses in huts or trenches and given to the men have become famous around the world. The Salvation Army gave forty-four subnubinches to the American and Allies' armies and in many other ways gives constant unselfish service.

CATHOLIC BOYS JOIN WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

Girls, Too, Will Stand With Them
Behind Every Fighter
at the Front.

To put behind every Catholic fighter in France the support of one boy or girl in every parish throughout the United States is the plan of the National Catholic War Council for backing the Victory Boys' and Victory Girls' "Earn and Give" Division of the United War Work Campaign to raise $170,500,000 "for the boys over there" during the week of November 11-18.

Through diocesan, county and parish organizations, the rallying of one youngster for every man who has gone to war in every community is already under way. By their own earnings, and not by contributions, it is expected that these sturdy little sponsors for the boys abroad will each raise at least five dollars for the just welfare work of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council, including the Knights of Columbus, War Camp Community Service, Jewish Welfare Board, American Library Association and Salvation Army.

Boys and girls in every Catholic parish throughout the United States are already being picked to represent each fighting man who has left their church for the front. In every home that flies a service flag little brothers and sisters, sons and daughters, are eagerly volunteering to look out for the share of their family fighter in the huge joint welfare campaign for all the boys abroad.

BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS SUPPLIED BY A. L. A.

English Camp Shows the Good Work of That Organization
for Our Boys.

Something like 13,500 pieces of stationery are distributed daily among 4,000 enlisted men by Ulrich B. Brubaker of Iola, Kas., as librarian at the Y. M. C. A. writing tent, Woodley Rest Camp of the American Expeditionary Forces in southern England. The number of troops at this camp varies from 3,000 to 9,000.

This single detail indicates why it is necessary for the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council and K. of C. War Camp Community Service, Jewish Welfare Board and Salvation Army have to furnish 125,000 sheets a month for soldiers' letters.

Hundreds of books are taken out in this small camp, books furnished by the American Library Association and handled by the Y. M. C. A. Most of the demands are for a good class of fiction. Thirty American newspapers are received there daily. One hundred and fifty magazines are in use daily and 400 pieces of athletic equipment furnished by the "Y" are put to good use.

Any surplus will be divided pro rata.

Cross and Y. M. C. A. work, Edward

Kane has finally been accepted, thru a special order, for service in the ordnance department at Washington, with instructions to report there at once. Years ago Kane lost a portion of two fingers of his left hand in an accident, but in all other respects he is physically fit.

German prisoners who arrive at British ports show little appreciation for the Iron Cross. One Helms traded one for a cigar.

HOW TO GET RID OF BASE BALL UMPIRES

Send Them to the American Expedi-
tory Forces in France.

Paris, October 25—If professional baseball has folded up for the duration of the war, throw the umpires to the lions—send them to the American Expeditionary Force. Many are beyond draft age and, if you believe the players, none could pass the sight test. Send them over to where baseball is being sprung through new territory by our fighters with paraphernalia furnished by, and under auspices of the V. M. C. A. K. of C. of the seven service organizations in the United War Work Campaign. These service organizations furnish tons of sporting apparatus and hundreds of physical directors, but there is a big demand in the A. E. F. for umpires—probably to send them to the front line. In the army was discovered a very difficult matter to uncover a man who can call balls and strike and get some of them right.

All of the umpiring in the games played in France is done by volunteers, which is another proof that the courage of the American soldier knows no bounds. The Boche will do well to ponder this fact. Anybody who will offer to hold the indicator in a contest played between two rival company regiments can't go to mind a little thing like going over the top. In fact, there is on record a case wherein a Yank ventured alone into the German lines and whupped half a company. When they threatened him with Conci Martial for promoting a private massacre without orders, he said that he had been the official umpire of his company and had gone over into the Hun precincts to get a rest.

Officers do a good deal of the umpiring. Having the weight of perfect discipline behind them, they get by without hearing many kicks. But discipline or no discipline, there is nothing to prevent a soldier from thinking and sometimes the privates have apoplexy from sent-up profanity. A bad decision is a bad decision whether your colonel or your "bankie" calls it on you.

Contrary to the general belief, it is rather a hard matter to amire a ball game even moderately well. It cannot be done perfectly, of course, because either one team or the other, or the roosters supporting them will insist that the arbiter has robbed them. It is distinctly harder than to get even a part of the decisions right. Of course the crowd in the stands doesn't think so. At every big game, there are several thousand better umpires in the stand than the two on the field. The fans admit that they know more about the game than the men who are paid large salaries for running it. But the trouble is that the crowd specializes in theory while the boys in the blue suits must be there with the practice.

Now and then a confirmed umpire-baiter has a chance to demonstrate his talent for handling a game. This priceless privilege was accorded to a Detroit fan one day when the Tigers were putting on an exhibition contest.

The awakening was rude. He operated from behind the pitcher, a point excellently situated for hearing the comments of the whole infield. Messrs. Bush and Young, shortstop and second-baseman respectively, are particularly gifted young men in the way of sly repartee, and they decided to show the umpire a good time.

"Ball one," announced the umpire as the Detroit pitcher delivered his first offering, a particularly wide and high pitch that the catcher intercepted only by an amazing show of agility. Then the infield opened up.

"What was the matter with it?" demanded Young, rushing toward the center of the diamond. Young being his friend, the umpire couldn't understand this savage outburst.

"Why, you know as well as I do, Peep, that it was high and outside," stammered the volunteer.

"High and outside, your grandmother," yelled Peep, his eyes flashing fire and his jaws dripping foam. "It cut the heart of the plate waist high."

"Never mind him, Peep," chimed in Donie Bush. "Can't you see he is wearing spectacles? If he wasn't half blind he wouldn't need them cheaters."

"Call 'em when they're over, you stuff," piped up Vitt. "This is only an exhibition game and Dan Johnson won't pay you anything for robbing us."

"Warm up a woolly dog for this guy. I'm going to get him a job selling lead-penciles," howled Bush.

"Maybe he's like an owl can only see at night," roared Young.

"Strike one," said the umpire in a feeble voice in the next pitch almost knocked the batter's head off.

"Well, you finally guessed one right," said the pitcher. "I lose a bet on you, at that, because I said you would be wrong every time and you're only wrong most of the time."

This time the outraged batter added to the confusion.

"What do you mean, strike?" he howled, advancing in a menacing way. "If I hadn't drunk it, it would have beaten me. Are you letting them stiff kid you or has somebody promised to buy you a beer if the Tigers win?"

"Get bac kthere and hit 'em when they're over," commanded Bush. "This bird missed two perfect strikes on our pitcher and you're roaring because he called a good one on you. The guy

OFFICIALS CALL FOR HELP; RATS EATING THE RECORDS

Destroy Papers at All the Girls Club
the Office Furniture.

Los Angeles, Cal.—David B. Lyons, registrar of voters, sent an S. O. S. call to the supervisors yesterday. His office is suffering from an invasion of rats, and while his one concern is the protection of valuable papers, which the rats seem to like, the girl employees are genuinely alarmed.

For some time past it has been observed that the young women deputies at times cast fearful glances at the floor, but the public at large did not know the reason until Mr. Lyons wrote a letter to the supervisors. The cause is rats. Some time ago they were shy, shrinking rats. Now, they are bold, bad rats; they shoot across the bare board floors in a way to terrify the women clerks; they rustle papers on the desks and even play tag in the drawers.

Here is Mr. Lyons' S. O. S. call: "The depredations done by rats in my department have become so serious that I am compelled to ask for prompt attention. I have taken it up with the head janitor and received numerous promises and perhaps some service. I confess I do not know just what he has done to abate the nuisance. I do know that valuable papers are being destroyed in the drawers of desks. I am sure that you will know how best to find a remedy. I do not desire that you act promptly. I do not desire to shirk any of the responsibilities in this matter. If there is anything that you will authorize me to do I will endeavor to do it."

Suggestions have already been made to Mr. Lyons. A few are: Put walnut shells on their feet so they can be heard coming, and then knock them in the head with a club. Gas 'em. Catch one, cage him, feed him on rat meat and turn him loose as a canibal.

The Foyers do the same services for the French Army exclusively as are performed for the American fighters by the V. M. C. A., the K. of C., the Jewish Welfare Board and the Salvation Army.

HOY LAMPLIGHTER USED TO LIGHT CITY STREETS

Philadelphia, Pa.—The shortage of labor was demonstrated in West Philadelphia when the gas lamps were lit by an extremely short lamplighter.

He was a 12 year old boy, who even with the long handled lighter found it difficult to reach the lamps. He started on his task before 4 o'clock in order to "get around."

Citizens in the neighborhood said the miniature light dispensor had been on duty for several days.

Even so, sleeping on the rocks has its advantages, for in the rosy days of the future when friend wife turns the lock on our late nocturnal home-coming, we can curl up on the front porch with sleepful abandon.

And when we are in the parlor with our best girl telling her of the great role we played in the world-safe-for-democracy drama, we'll not mind it a bit if the passing guard orders, "Camp out!"

WILL ELIMINATE STYLES IN SPECTACLES FOR WAR

New York—Announcement has been made by the service committee of the optical industry that opticians throughout the country will eliminate thousands of styles in spectacles and eyeglass frames as a measure to conserve gold. With one-fourth of the nation's population wearing glasses, it was said, several million dollars' worth of gold annually goes into optical products.

TERMS OF SALE—Said real estate will be sold upon a credit of six (6) and twelve (12) months, in payments of equal amounts. The purchaser will be required to execute Sale Bonds for the purchase price, with approved personal security, payable to me as Master Commissioner, and bearing 6% interest thereon from the day of sale. Said Sale Bonds will have the force and effect of Reprovin Bonds, with a lien retained therein upon the property sold, in order to secure the payment of the purchase price.

ANALYSIS OF BOLSHEVISM (Avia Magazine)

It is possible to differentiate three elements in Maximism now turned into Russian Bolshevism:

1. The Bolshevism of the Intellectuals, as represented by fanatical doctrinalists, the greater number of whom have appeared on the scene since the revolution, coming from alien countries, some of them, like Lenin, with the backing of the German authorities and totally ignorant of Russian affairs.

2. Popular Bolshevism, adopted by the soldiers and peasants, which recalls the many instances of rebellion and peasant uprising so long a bloody stain on Russian history. These peasants and soldiers are ever ready to take advantage of circumstances to stop working and plunder the estates. The unheard-of excesses which they have lately committed at the insistence of the doctrinaire Bolsheviks have so completely disorganized or destroyed the army, industry, commerce and agriculture that nothing is left intact of all that constituted the strength and resources of the country.

3. The Bolshevism of the Professors, represented by sordid individuals who endeavor to exploit the revolution, and immediately to draw therefrom the greatest possible personal effects.

This general exemplification, and especially the facts upon which it is based, prove that Bolshevism cannot even be taken into consideration as a social theory. Like the hurricane it is but an agent of destruction. It has succeeded in destroying the economic and financial forces of Russia, which were the results of many centuries of upbuilding. It has brought misery and famine upon the industrial and peasant classes who were lured by the promise of social reforms not a single one of which have been fulfilled. Bolsheviks have established in Russia an anarcho-communistic regime of absolutism, whose watchword, "Take all you can get," has destroyed the work of generations. Certainly many decades must pass before the crumpled edifice can be re-erected.

ENGLISH NAVY AUTHORITIES ARE NOT AGREED ON THE UTILITY OF THE NAVY'S HAYONET

London—The ram is the most ancient of ship weapons.

For a long while naval opinion was divided on the practice, and battle experience showed that only one charge in five was effective against the enemy, while one in fifteen had serious results for the charging ship.

The tragedy of the Victoria and the Camperdown, heavily armed ships which collided during maneuvers off the Syrian coast, almost put a veto on the ram in the British fleet.

Certainly with big guns in effective action at fifteen miles, with torpedoes accurate at three miles, and armaments able to pop up anywhere, it does seem that shock tactics of the ram type are out of date.

Yet Tommy in the trenches has found his bayonet important despite machine guns, gas, mines, and grenades, to say nothing of artillery barrages and bombardments and rifle fire and after all the night stages of the Jutland sea battle were fought at short ranges indeed. The Germans fled swiftly on that occasion to allow any ramming to be done at their expense.

The nose of hammered steel has another use to the warship. In peace time it is her protection against drifting timbers, and absorbs some of the shock when the ship takes ground in a tortuous waterway or a bad anchorage.

COUNTESS GETS 20 DAYS; SELLS
SOLDIER LIQUOR

New York—Countess Rena von Kuppers, owner of the Masaapequa Inn at Masaapequa, L. I., and Leo Wasservogel, manager, were sentenced to prison by Judge Chatfield in the federal court, Brooklyn, for selling liquor to soldiers in uniform.

The countess' sentence was twenty days in prison and a fine of $150. Her manager, who took fall blame, got three months in jail.

Y. M. C. A. DONE WONDERFUL WORK OVERSEAS

James R. McAndrews Says the Y. M. C. A. Has Been of Very Much Value to the Expeditionary Forces.

American Headquarters, France, October 25—Major General James R. McAndrew, Chief of Staff of the American Expeditionary Forces, has stated his belief that the Y. M. C. A. has played no small part in maintaining the high morale of the American soldiers. In a letter wishing success to the United War Work Campaign in the United States, General McAndrew wrote:

"I am very glad to go on record that the work of the Y. M. C. A. has been of inestimable value to the American Expeditionary Forces. One has only to look into the windows of a Y. M. C. A. hut, whether in the Advance Zone or at one of our base ports, and see the men poring over their letters at the writing desks or gathered around a phonograph, or their happy faces when attending the innumerable entertainments while the Y. M. C. A. generously provides, to appreciate the justice of those remarks."

"Recreation has a great indirect bearing upon the morale of an army and the Y. M. C. A. has played no small part in maintaining the high morale of our soldiers. I understand that the Y. M. C. A. will soon make another drive for the purpose of continuing the work so successfully begun as well as to meet the needs of a larger program. In stating that the money contributed to the Y. M. C. A. in France has been judiciously expended, I feel that I am but voicing the sentiments of the members of the American Expeditionary Forces."

"I have had the opportunity of observing the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Paris and in the field with the Second and Thirtieth Divisions respectively," wrote Major E. M. Lewis. "In Paris I have seen extensive means provided for housing, caring for and entertaining officers and enlisted men who visit that city. I have observed at the front where our troops have been in actual combat both in France and Belgium results obtained by the Y. M. C. A. personnel and system to provide articles for the comfort and welfare of soldiers where, without such provision, must necessarily go without them."

"As the result of my observation I have no hesitation in saying that the Y. M. C. A. has proved itself valuable and competent for adding a physical, morale and mental welfare of the soldiers wherever they may be and I recommend to all persons interested in our soldiers their continuation and augmentation of financial support to this organization."

AN ARMISTICE WOULD MEAN THE END OF THE WAR

Germany Would Be Left Powerless on Land and Sea—Allies Are Willing To Submit Question to Military Men, "Tis Thought.

Washington, October 25—Discussion centered here yesterday on the probable terms of armistice which may be formulated by the Allied and American military advisers after the Allied governments have considered the German proposals transmitted by President Wilson. It was generally assumed by army officers that the President already had ascertained the willingness of the Allied governments to submit the matter to the military men.

Military opinion here is that Mr. Wilson has expressed the basic idea upon which an immediate armistice can be reached. The terms to render the German military power on land and sea absolutely impotent must be worked out by the Supreme War Council.

It will be the mission of the military advisers to translate general principles into concrete terms of fortresses to be occupied, submarine bases to be placed under guard, munition plants to be disarmed and strategic rail lines to be secured against German use. Since an armistice on Allied terms means an end to the war, attention also must be given to demobilization of the German army, in itself a long process since the great force could not be turned back to civil life over night.

The machinery for formulation of the terms already exists. The military and naval boards of the Supreme War council at Versailles furnish the natural avenue for bringing the views of the military leaders into harmony a definite statement of the conditions upon which fighting could come to an end.

Few of the Things Enemy Must Yield

Washington, October 25—Military experts, discussing what might be included in armistice terms demanded by the Allied commanders, mention:

Occupation of Metz-Thionville fortress, probably by Americans.

Occupation of Rhine fortress, Strasbourg.

Assurance of open road to Berlin.

Evacuation of Belgium and France, with Germans exposed to Allied guns in case of treachery.

Occupation of Heligoland to bottle submarines and high seas fleet in North Sea.

Probably surrender of U-boats themselves.

Some measure to block Kiel canal outlet.

Surrender by Austria to Italians of Alpine fortresses and control of road to Vienna.

Evacuation entire Adriatic coast.

Occupation Austrian bases to destroy its naval power.

Surrender of Trieste naval base.

Clear road to the Black Sea.

Surrender by Turks of Dardanelles fortresses.

Surrender of Russian battleships in Black Sea seized by Germans.

Surrender of Turkish war craft.

DRAFT BOARDS ORDERED TO BE MORE EXACTING

Provost Marshal Says Inequalities in Registration Must Be Corrected.

Frankfort, Ky., October 25—Peace

rumors, coupled with a belief that the country has unlimited man power, has resulted in lax classifications by some local boards, according to a bulletin received from the Provost Marshal General by Major Henry F. Rhodes, selective service officer.

Reports from thirty-five local boards throughout the country disclose the number of Class 1 men fit for general military service ranging from 5 to 45 per cent. of the total registration.

Such inequalities, the Provost Marshal says, must be corrected, and where the percentage of Class 1 men is extremely low the returns will be scrutinized closely.

So far thirteen counties in Kentucky have completed both classifications and examinations, and fifty-one have completed their classifications out of the 120 counties of Kentucky.

MORE HOSPITAL AID NEEDED

The young woman, who answered the call for nurses to assist Miss Case and Miss Waddington, have rendered valuable service this week, and all patients at the Emergency Hospital are doing well. Mrs. Thomas is looking after the housekeeping till other arrangements can be made. Home preparations of foods have been of great assistance.

Homes and clothing have been provided for children, whose parents are in the hospital and every demand has been met wonderfully well under the trying conditions that had to be faced.

But there is need of reinforcement within hospital and domestic service. The heroic volunteers must be relieved if their strength is conserved and every woman who can render aid the coming week is asked to report as soon as possible to Mrs. Frank Clark or Miss Louise Best.

Concerning food supplies confer with Mrs. Thomas. Phone 421-W.

First Ward—Olivette Clooney.

Second Ward—Mrs. James Buckley.

Third Ward—Lucille Egawa.
